About

Hello and welcome. My name is Jacob Lee and I'd like to welcome you to JLD Designs. I've created this website to showcase some of my talent and skill as I try to break into the creative website scene.

When I'm not doing that, I'm studying while trying to maintain my sanity, maintain cleanliness in the house, navigate around my grankids (who live with us, along with our daughter and our son) and cook dinner, otherwise we'd starve.

My previous work history includes being a member in the Queensland Police Service and in the Hospitality industry where I held various management positions. I hold completed Diplomas in both of these fields.

I am currently enrolled in a Diploma of IT through Coder Academy. I am hoping at the end of this course that I am able to land some freelancing work while I ponder further higher education studies.

Please take the time to check out my resume and current skillset by clicking the resume button link below. Cheers.
